Farewell - but more to the point, au revoir! It is my last weekend with you all and we have a pastoral letter from the bishop which I have made available in printed form so that I can say a more personal farewell to you in my homily. In many ways I feel that I have been unable to accomplish my main task which was to build suitable accommodation for the parish priest, but I simply found myself unable to agree with the bishop, who, although he came to the parish many times, never made a formal visitation to explain what his vision was. I hope that Fr. Christopher will have a different experience! However, in every other way it has been a happy five years and I thank you all for your constant support and wonderful generosity. Fr. Simon

Macmillian Coffee Morning. We would like to organise The Macmillan Coffee Morning again this year. It is on Friday 28th Sept. Last year we raised close to £700 towards the wonderful, vital work of Macmillan nurses. That was good, but, perhaps even better on the day was such a supportive cross section of the parish meeting together for a relaxed coffee and a chat in a lovely atmosphere. Please put this date in your diary. If you would like to help, before or on the day, make (or bring shop made) cakes, but most of all come to enjoy time together. Anytime between 9am and 1pm. Let the office know if you would like to help in any way.
